THE 7 PITFALLS OF PUBLIC SPEAKING

How to make sure your work presentation is bullet-proof, every time.

Whether you are a professional speaker, corporate trainer, CEO, or team leader: This talk will be of great value to you and your team when preparing for a work presentation. Since public speaking is one of man-kinds greatest fears, the right kind of preparation is more important than ever. By implementing these simple steps, every presentation will be successful and impactful with no room for error. When a speaker or trainer is in the spot light, they have a huge amount of responsibility to deliver a powerful message for their company.

Make sure the leaders and trainers in your organization know how to avoid these pitfalls and deliver the information with confidence and authority.

IN THIS ENGAGING KEYNOTE PRESENTATION, YOUR AUDIENCE WILL DISCOVER

- The 5 STEP PROCESS that powers your voice and prepares you to vocally take command of your staff AND the training room.
- The KEY FACTORS that will shape your presentation and ensure professional, engaging presentations every time.
- The common GENDER, CULTURE and MINDSET TRAPS that prevent your staff from succeeding in the boardroom and in the training room.
- PROVEN and PRACTICAL STRATEGIES for taking command in the workplace, on the stage, and in the training room, taking your team leaders to the next level.

Audience members will leave this presentation with a clear action plan for preparing for their next training session or professional business presentation.
